executive ranges

Online Shop: <https://officestock.co.za>

The Executive / Management work environment is an epicenter of decisions that can change the fate of the company and the employees that believe in the management.

Executive products are developed with a function – orientated understanding with designs that add value to the image and status of the individual user.

The Executive ranges depicted are designed and developed for management, or intermediate managerial company positions. Secretarial workstations can be supplied to match the management workstations.

Included in each range are a series of pedestals, credenzas, pedenzas, servers, wall units and conference tables to complete the ranges.

steel benching systems

Online Shop: <https://officestock.co.za>

A bench product is essentially rows of worksurfaces that are parallel to each other around a central technology infrastructure, that conveniently provides access to power and data. Users sit face-to-face or side-by-side. Benching systems allow for variety and customization, resulting in a space saving, cost saving and productivity.

plan b benching system

three legs, three styles

Online Shop: <https://officestock.co.za>

The plan b benching system is aesthetically light and balanced, and delivers creative solutions to a variety of space planning and functional needs. The plan b benching system is a modular, easily configured and reconfigured product, and is manufactured and assembled using a support beam based leg system (with a choice between straight leg, closed loop leg and angled leg), with additional architectural beams for supporting reticulation trays, screening, third level storage and accessories. The plan b benching systems allow for variety and customization, resulting in space saving, cost saving and productivity.

twentyfive50 vertebra with open top filer

The Vertebra storage system offers the perfect solutions for all the storage functionality you need: Filing, Organization, Versatility and Space Utilization.

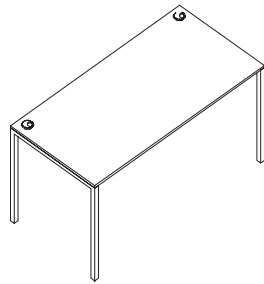

The Vertebra storage system is made up of a modular top storage unit, and bottom storage unit.

The top storage unit is comprised of a pinboard section, and adjacent to the pinboard section, is a choice of either open storage or roller door storage compartments.

The bottom storage unit consists of a hinge door compartment, with a single shelf, and adjacent to the hinge door compartment, is a drawer unit consisting of 2 drawers (One single drawer, with a drop in pen and pencil tray and one drawer as a deep filer). The Vertebra storage system has an integrated cable management compartment, placed between the top and bottom storage units, and is primarily used for reticulation purposes. Power and data cables are conveniently delivered to workstations through cable management ports, located on the sides, middle and back of the Vertebra storage units.
